

WINTER SEASON:
The Forest Fairy and the Phoenix

The Story:

After a winter storm, Shayla, the forest fairy, finds her home has been transformed into a lovely world of ice and snow. She meets a magical bird, the Phoenix, and the fairy discovers they share a special bond. Sadly, the Phoenix has to leave the forest forever. Learn how Shayla finds comfort in her connection with nature and helping others.

Discussion Before Story: Winter and dealing with loss

- 1) What do you like about winter?
- 2) Have you ever walked in the woods in winter?
- 3) Would walking in the woods comfort you if you lost a special person or pet?

Discussion After Story: (Page references next to each question)

- 1) Shayla says she misses the bird songs and other signs of life. Where are the animals?
(Most mammals hibernate and many birds migrate because of the cold and lack of food.)

- 2) Why does Kylie the fox sleep during the day and go out at night?
(Foxes are nocturnal. Raccoons, opossums, bats, badgers, beavers, foxes, coyotes, flying squirrels, skunks, moths, and owls are some other nocturnal animals.) Page 4
- 3) Why do deer eat tree bark in the winter? (Deer eat anything they can in the winter since food is so scarce. The older deer teach the younger ones where to find food.) Page 7
- 4) Why do Shayla and the Phoenix feel it is important to protect the earth?
(When people take too much of something, it can be gone forever. Everything in nature is about balance. Nature is at the center of everything we need to survive.) Page 11
- 5) Why do you feel closer to some people more than others? (You share a common interest, experience something important together, or spend a lot of time together.) Page 11
- 6) Why does the Phoenix tell Shayla they will always be connected? (When we share important or private thoughts with others, we feel a connection to them even after they're gone. Shayla and the Phoenix will always feel a connection to each other through the thoughts and emotions they shared.) Page 13
- 7) How did Shayla honor her friendship with the Phoenix?
(By teaching the new Phoenix and others about protecting the earth.) Page 15
